

THE COMPLETE BIRCH COMPASS FIELD COMPANION

Washington, D.C. Nature Year 2027

Twelve months of Washington, D.C. nature in depth — birds, blooms, garden, market, night sky, butterflies, and trees. Typical timing, plus your 2027 sky calendar alongside.

Birch Compass · birchcompass.com

CONTENTS

The Washington, D.C. year, month by month

1	January	January is the District's quiet, riverine month — Bald Eagles soar over a...
2	February	February is the District's hinge month — eagles court and rebuild nests...
3	March	March is the District's great unfolding — the Tidal Basin's Yoshino...
4	April	April is peak spring in the District — the cherry bloom gives way to...
5	May	May is the District's birding crescendo — Rock Creek Park fills with the...
6	June	June settles the District into full summer — Wood Thrushes and tanagers...
7	July	July is the District's lush, humid high summer — the lotus and...
8	August	August is late summer in the District — fall migration quietly begins as...
9	September	September is the District's fall-migration peak — warblers stream back...
10	October	October is the District's brilliant autumn — the scarlet oaks light up...
11	November	November settles the District toward winter — the late oaks finish...
12	December	December settles the District into winter — rafts of waterfowl and...